

O'ZBEK TILSHUNOSLIGIDAGI
LINGVOKULTUROLOGIK TADQIQOTLAR

Musurmanova Shaxnoza,

*Xalqaro innovatsion universiteti Xorijiy filologiya
kafedrasini mudiri*

LINGUOCULTUROLOGICAL STUDIES IN UZBEK LINGUISTICS

Musurmanova Shakhnoza,

*Head of the Department of foreign philology,
International innovative university*

ЛИНГВОКУЛЬТУРОЛОГИЧЕСКИЕ
ИССЛЕДОВАНИЯ В УЗБЕКСКОМ
ЯЗЫКОЗНАНИИ

Мусурманова Шахноза,

*Заведующий кафедрой зарубежной филологии
Международного инновационного университета*

E-mail: salimovas960@gmail.com

Orcid: 0009-0001-3481-493X

Doi:

<https://doi.org/10.5281/zenodo.17162304>

Annotatsiya: Ushbu maqola O'zbekiston tilshunosligida lingvokulturologik tadqiqotlar mavzusini o'rganishga bag'ishlangan. Shuningdek, til va madaniyat o'rtasidagi o'zaro bog'liqlik, tilshunoslik fanining lingvokulturologik aspektlarini tahlil qilinadi. Maqolada O'zbekistonning boy madaniy merosi, milliy an'analari va urf-odatlarini til orqali qanday ifodalanishi ko'rsatib berilgan. Lingvokulturologik tadqiqotlar yordamida tilning ijtimoiy va madaniy kontekstdagi ahamiyati, shuningdek, o'zbek tilining o'ziga xos xususiyatlari va ularning xalq hayotidagi roli yoritilgan.

Kalit so'zlar: Lingvokulturologiya, til va madaniyat, madaniy meros, milliy an'ana, urf-odatlar, ijtimoiy kontekst, o'zbek tili, tilshunoslik fanlari, madaniyatshunoslik, lingvistik tadqiqotlar

Annotation: this article is devoted to the study of the topic of linguocultural studies in the linguistics of Uzbekistan. Also, the relationship between language and culture is analyzed, the linguoculturological aspects of the science of linguistics. The article shows how Uzbekistan's rich cultural heritage, national traditions and customs are expressed through language. Annotation: this article is devoted to the study of the topic of linguocultural studies in the linguistics of Uzbekistan. Also, the relationship between language and culture is analyzed, the linguoculturological aspe.

Keywords: Linguoculturology, language and Culture, Cultural Heritage, national tradition, customs, social context, Uzbek language, linguistic Sciences, cultural studies, linguistic studies

Аннотация: данная статья посвящена изучению темы лингвокультурологических исследований в лингвистике Узбекистана. Также анализируются Взаимосвязь языка и культуры, лингвокультурологические аспекты лингвистической науки. В статье показано, как богатейшее культурное наследие, национальные традиции и обычаи Узбекистана выражаются через язык. Аннотация: данная статья посвящена изучению темы лингвокультурологических исследований в лингвистике Узбекистана. анализируются Взаимосвязь языка и культуры, лингвокульт народа.

Ключевые слова: лингвокультурология, язык и культура, культурное наследие, национальные традиции, обычаи, социальный контекст, узбекский язык, лингвистические науки, культурология, лингвистические исследования.

INTRODUCTION

Linguoculturology, an interdisciplinary field that explores the intricate relationship between language and culture, has gained significant traction in recent years, particularly within the context of Uzbek linguistics. As Uzbekistan continues to navigate its post-Soviet identity, understanding the interplay between its rich linguistic heritage and cultural nuances becomes increasingly vital. This article aims to delve into the emerging trends and methodologies of linguoculturological studies in Uzbekistan, highlighting how these studies contribute to a deeper comprehension of the Uzbek language as a vessel of cultural expression.

In Uzbekistan, where multiple languages coexist and interact, linguoculturology offers a unique lens through which to examine not only the structural aspects of the Uzbek language but also its role in shaping and reflecting national identity, traditions, and social dynamics. The exploration of linguistic phenomena—such as idioms, proverbs, and discourse patterns—within their cultural contexts reveals the underlying values and beliefs of the Uzbek people. By investigating these connections, researchers can uncover insights into the ways language influences thought processes, social interactions, and cultural continuity.

METHODS AND LEVEL OF LEARNING

Linguoculturology, as an interdisciplinary field, employs a variety of methods and approaches to explore the connections between language and culture. In the context of Uzbek linguistics, these methods facilitate a comprehensive understanding of how linguistic elements embody cultural meanings and social practices.

Researchers conduct detailed descriptions of linguistic phenomena, such as idioms, proverbs, and metaphors, analyzing their meanings and cultural significance. This method helps to identify how specific expressions reflect cultural values and social norms. By comparing the Uzbek language with other languages (e.g., Russian, Tajik), scholars can uncover unique cultural traits and shared linguistic features. This approach highlights the influence of historical and sociopolitical factors on language development. The use of language corpora allows researchers to analyze large samples of authentic language use. This method is particularly useful for identifying patterns in language that correlate with cultural practices and beliefs. Ethnographic approaches, including interviews and participant observations, enable researchers to gather qualitative data on how language is used in various cultural contexts. This method provides insights into the everyday language practices of Uzbek speakers.

Analyzing spoken and written discourse helps to understand how language constructs social identities and reflects cultural narratives. This method examines the role of language in shaping public opinion, identity, and power dynamics. This approach investigates how language reflects cognitive processes and cultural conceptualizations. Researchers explore how linguistic structures relate to thought patterns and cultural frameworks. At this level, studies focus on individual linguistic units (words, phrases) and their meanings within specific cultural contexts. Researchers analyze how these units convey cultural nuances and reflect societal values.

Linguoculturological studies often intersect with fields such as anthropology, sociology, history, and psychology. This interdisciplinary approach enriches the analysis by incorporating diverse perspectives on culture and language.

The methods and levels of learning employed in linguoculturological studies in Uzbek linguistics provide a robust framework for understanding the complex interplay between language and culture. By utilizing a combination of qualitative and quantitative research methods, scholars can uncover the rich cultural meanings embedded in the Uzbek language

RESEARCH RESULTS

The research conducted in the field of linguoculturology within Uzbek linguistics has yielded significant insights into the intricate relationship between language and culture. The following key findings summarize the results of various studies undertaken in this area:

Idiomatic Expressions: A comprehensive analysis of idioms revealed that many expressions in the Uzbek language are deeply rooted in cultural practices, historical events, and social norms. For instance, idioms related to agriculture reflect the agrarian lifestyle of the Uzbek people, highlighting the importance of farming in their cultural identity.

Proverbs: The study found that Uzbek proverbs serve as a repository of wisdom and moral values, often encapsulating communal beliefs and ethical teachings. These proverbs are frequently used in everyday conversation, reinforcing cultural continuity.

Language Contact: The comparative analysis between Uzbek and other languages, such as Russian and Persian, showed that historical interactions have led to significant lexical borrowing and structural influences. This linguistic interplay has enriched the Uzbek vocabulary while also introducing new cultural concepts.

Soviet Legacy: The research indicated that the Soviet era has left a lasting impact on the Uzbek language, particularly in terms of terminology related to governance, education, and technology. This legacy continues to shape contemporary discourse in Uzbekistan.

Narrative Structures: Discourse analysis revealed that narrative forms in Uzbek literature and oral traditions often reflect collective identity and cultural values. Storytelling serves not only as entertainment but also as a means of preserving cultural heritage and transmitting knowledge across generations.

Language and Social Identity: The study highlighted how language use varies across different social groups, with specific dialects and registers signaling identity, status, and group affiliation. This variation underscores the role of language as a marker of social belonging.

Metaphorical Language: Research in cognitive linguistics demonstrated that metaphors in the Uzbek language are closely tied to cultural conceptualizations of nature, time, and social relationships. For example, metaphors related to water often symbolize purity and life, reflecting the cultural significance of water resources in Uzbekistan.

Cognitive Frames: The analysis identified distinct cognitive frames that influence how Uzbek speakers perceive and categorize their world. These frames are shaped by cultural experiences and inform everyday communication.

Integration with Other Disciplines: The interdisciplinary approach has provided a richer understanding of the linguistic phenomena observed. Collaborations with anthropology and sociology have illuminated the social dynamics that underpin language use, while historical perspectives have contextualized linguistic changes over time.

Globalization Effects: The research also examined the impact of globalization on Uzbek linguistics, revealing a growing incorporation of foreign terms and concepts, particularly from English. This trend reflects broader cultural shifts and poses challenges for maintaining linguistic purity.

The results of linguoculturological studies in Uzbek linguistics underscore the dynamic interplay between language and culture. By examining various linguistic elements through a cultural lens, researchers have uncovered profound insights into the values, beliefs, and identities of the Uzbek people. These findings not only contribute to the field of linguistics but also enhance our understanding of Uzbekistan's rich cultural tapestry in an increasingly globalized world. Future research should continue to explore these connections, particularly in light of ongoing social changes and technological advancements.

THE CONCLUSION

Of the article emphasizes linguoculturological studies in Uzbek linguistics have significantly enriched our understanding of the intricate relationship between language and culture within the context of Uzbekistan. The research highlights how linguistic elements—such as idiomatic expressions, proverbs, and narrative structures—serve as vital conduits for expressing cultural values, social identities, and historical experiences.

The findings reveal that language is not merely a tool for communication but a reflection of the collective consciousness of the Uzbek people. The influence of historical contexts, including periods of linguistic contact and the legacy of the Soviet era, has shaped the contemporary linguistic landscape, introducing both challenges and opportunities for cultural expression.

Moreover, the studies underscore the importance of interdisciplinary approaches, integrating insights from anthropology, sociology, and cognitive linguistics to provide a comprehensive understanding of how language functions within its cultural framework. As globalization continues to impact linguistic practices, these studies emphasize the need to preserve and promote the unique aspects of Uzbek culture and language.

In conclusion, linguoculturological research in Uzbek linguistics not only contributes to academic discourse but also plays a crucial role in fostering cultural awareness and identity among speakers. Continued exploration in this field is essential for safeguarding Uzbekistan's linguistic heritage while navigating the complexities of a rapidly changing world.

List of literature:

1. Abdullaev, A.. Language and Culture in Uzbekistan: A Linguistic Perspective. Tashkent: Uzbekistan State University Press. 2010
2. Bakhodirov, M. Cultural Identity and Language: The Role of Uzbek Proverbs. Journal of Central Asian Studies, 8(2), 45-58. 2015
3. Jumaniyazova, D. Linguoculturology: Theory and Practice in Uzbek Linguistics. Tashkent: Academic Publishing House. 2018)
4. Khamraev, M. The Influence of Historical Contexts on Uzbek Language Development. Central Asian Linguistics Journal, 12(1), 23-37. 2017.
5. Mansurova, S. Language as a Cultural Artifact: Analyzing Uzbek Idioms. International Journal of Linguistic Studies, 14(3), 67-82. 2019.
6. Nurmatov, R. The Interplay of Language and Culture in Uzbekistan: A Sociolinguistic Approach. Tashkent: Uzbekistan Academy of Sciences. 2021.
7. Saidova, G. Cultural Reflections in the Uzbek Language: A Study of Lexical Borrowings. Journal of Linguistic Research, 15(4), 112-129. 2020
8. Tashkent State University of Oriental Studies. Uzbek Language and Culture: Current Trends and Future Directions. Proceedings of the International Conference. 2016
9. Umarov, A. Language Contact and Cultural Exchange in Central Asia. Eurasian Journal of Linguistics, 9(2), 50-65. 2014
10. Yuldasheva, N. Cultural Semantics in Uzbek Language: A Linguoculturological Approach. Asian Journal of Humanities and Social Sciences, 10(1), 99-115. 2022

11. Uzbekistan National Encyclopedia Uzbekistan: History and Culture. Tashkent: National Encyclopedia of Uzbekistan. 2000
12. UNESCO Cultural Heritage and Language Preservation in Central Asia. Paris: UNESCO Publishing. 2019